

GUITAR HEROES

VERSION 2.0

WHITEPAPER

WHAT IS GUITAR HEROES?

Guitar Heroes is a collection of 100 of the top guitar players from around the world. There are 5 series, each series contains 20 guitarists. The first of its kind using blockchain technology, Guitar Heroes allows fans and nft collectors to participate in an ecosystem that focuses on music and guitar. Taking advantage of this new technology we now have a new way of owning art of our favorite musicians. The series contains some of the greatest guitarists in the world and acknowledges their contribution to the world of guitar and music.

There is also a short bio description of each player, and an attributes section that has a rating system. These include - Technique, Speed and difficulty. *Note, this is in no way a reflection of their playing but more of a video game approach for fun purposes. Music and art cannot be judged.

You can either collect the entire 5 series release of 100 or just aim for your favorite players. With blockchain technology we can also trade easily with one another allowing a community to form. The guitar is a dominant worldwide instrument and people from all over the world can talk and trade with each other. Discussions can include new guitars, new equipment on the market, shows from featured guitarists and other musicians and everything in between. Being the first blockchain guitar release series of its kind, it is an exciting process for us and we look forward to participating on this new platform and to watch the technology develop and be adopted.

WHY XRPL?

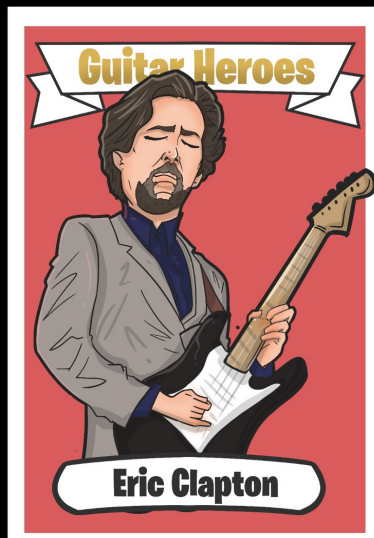

We have been part of the XRP community for over 6 years. Now to have the opportunity to use one of the XRPLs functions is great. It is much faster and cheaper than other blockchains and we are excited and grateful to be able to take part in using this emerging new technology.

We also have the opportunity to bring more people of all backgrounds together and to introduce it to people that are unaware. The guitar and music connects everyone and we can play our part by helping to bring more people on to this new platform in a fun and interactive way.
